Foreword

The 1966-'67 school year has passed; the memories created, we hope, will exist forever. In this edition of the Blue Quill we have tried to provide a solid foundation for these memories through the pictures and copy it contains.

We are grateful to many people for the publishing of this book, but we, the yearbook staff, are most grateful to our advisor, Mrs. Gwen Reily.

This year was especially difficult for the staff because of the many events which hindered its progress. However, we feel that because of these events and the combined efforts that resulted in the reorganization of the book, the 1967 Blue Quill is unique, and the school year 1966-67 was truly "the year that was."

ealization that our school had burned

To those who helped —

We dedicate the 1967 Blue Quill.

When the 1967 Blue Quill Staff selected the theme "That Was the Year That Was", little did they anticipate the events which were to follow that would make this theme more realistic than ever.

A fire in the main building of Corrigan High School was reported at 4:30 on the morning of February 24, 1967. Within a half hour, most of Corrigan's citizens had reached the site and were watching in shocked disbelief as firemen fought in vain to save their school. They realized not only the material loss involved, but the fact that many items of sentimental value were burning that could never be replaced.

These unfortunate events are behind us. Even while the rubble was burning, the administration had made plans for classes to be resumed in the Moscow building, which had been vacated with the annexation of Moscow and Corrigan in the fall. Mrs. Hazel Anderson and Miss Winnie Harris had begun ordering new supplies and trying to replace some of the many records lost in the fire. Parents, students, and friends called, offering assistance wherever it might be needed. For as Superintendent Cockrell told students, "A school is not merely a building; it is you, the students, and your education." Now the citizens of Corrigan are anticipating a new building--one in which future generations of Corrigan students will create new memories.

To all of those who aided in the reconstruction of the 1967 Blue Quill we respectfully dedicate this volume. We are especially grateful to Mr. J. R. Cockrell, Mr. Frank Hyde, Mrs. Hazel Anderson, Miss Winnie Harris, Mr. Lynn Wildman of Taylor Publishing Company, Mrs. Arleen Bazzoon of Cleveland, and Mr. Mark Foster III, our photographer. We are also most grateful to all parents, faculty members, and other friends too numerous to mention who contributed film, snapshots, time, and effort. Without you, the 1967 Blue Quill would have been only a dream that a few students once had.

In Memoriam

MICHAEL McDUFFIE

"We too are ashes as we watch and hear
The psalm, the sorrow, and the simple praise
Of one whose promised thoughts of other days
Were such as ours, but now wholly destroyed..."

Because he has worked for us and with us for eleven years; because he has given generously of his time and wisdom--words seem inadequate to express our sincere respect and admiration for Mr. J. R. Cockrell, Superintendent.

Besides being an active participant and leader in community affairs, Mr. Cockrell fulfills his responsibilities of providing the best educational opportunities available for every student in the Corrigan Independent School District.

Mr. Hyde exemplified his ingenuity by ringing the bell for change of classes with a toy pistol when the electricity went off in the Moscow building.

The position of high school principal involves many duties and responsibilities, some of which are planning the curriculum, keeping attendance records, and teaching classes.

Mr. James Sims, principal of Corrigan High School for thirteen years, assumed the principalship of the Huntsville Junior High School at the end of the first semester. Mr. Frank Hyde, former counselor in the Pickering High School, Leesville, Louisiana, replaced Mr. Sims as high school principal in January.

April 27, 1967, was proclaimed "Dick Skinner Day" in Corrigan when the popular bus driver was honored by the Texas Department of Public Safety, his co-workers, school patrons, and students of the Corrigan schools for having been named regional "Bus Driver of the Year."

During his twenty-seven years as bus driver, "Dick," as he is fondly called by everyone who knows him, has covered approximately 375,000 miles without an accident. He has driven an untold number of miles not only to and from school each day, but for numerous extra-curricular activities, including football games and senior trips.

Awards presented to Dick by officials included framed plaques and a check for fifty dollars.

Mr. Louis B. Lotspeich, Vice-Pres. of Shamrock Van Lines, presents a plaque to Dick.

"I'll give you the check in just a moment, Dorothy."

Mr. Cockrell, Mrs. Skinner, and Dick shown with the awards.

Mr. J. C. Bryan, Director of Safety for TMTA, reads one of the certificates awarded Dick.

Sgt. Poplin, regional safety officer for the Texas Dept. of Public Safety, presents another award for safe driving.

White shoes, starched uniforms, polished buckles, and practice, practice, and more practice, marked the year of 1966-'67 for the Corrigan High School Band. "Forward, march!" was the signal, and the year began. Their snappy performances at the football games helped them retain their title: "The Pride of Corrigan High School".

After football season had ended, the band still worked. They marched in four parades and conducted fund-raising drives such as collecting papers and selling magazines.

The last semester brought the climax of the year's work and practice - the long awaited annual concert.

SPORTS

This year's football team was privileged to have two fine coaches like Mr. Don Phillips and Mr. James Sims, whose picture was not available. Mr. Phillips is a graduate of Rice University and played professional football in Canada. The services rendered to the 1966-67 football team by these coaches have been appreciated by the citizens of Corrigan as well as the students of Corrigan High School.

September 9, 1966, opened another season of hard work for the Bulldogs. With the instruction of Coach Phillips and Assistant Coach Sims, these boys practiced long hours in the summer. Through patience and close teamwork, the Bulldogs entered the season with great anticipation.

During the heated game between the Corrigan Bulldogs and the Diboll Lumberjacks, the Bulldogs employed a tactic called the "pitch-out". Waiting to receive the ball from left to right are David Broaddus, left halfback, Kenneth Thomas, fullback, and Wesley Scott, right halfback. Carrying the ball is Tommy Eagleburger, Quarterback; Harold Seago, tackle, and George Wallace, right end, block for Eagleburger.

This "pitch-out play" proved successful to give the Bulldogs ten yards and another first down.

Basketball

" - 2, 4, 6, 8, 10.....come on _____put it in.....Whoop.... SINK IT!!"

As the rage of football season faded, Coach Phillips and his team created equal enthusiasm during basketball season.

Boys' Track

Gerald clears the high jump in a practice session before the Nacogdoches meet.

The 1967 boys' track team consisted of ten boys. With the close direction of Coach Phillips, they practiced every day. Although they were often defeated, they continued to enter every available event at the track meets.

FRONT ROW: Willoughby Gibbs, Gene Bacon, David Broaddus, Gerald Standley, and Mike Reily. SECOND ROW: Bobby Stanford, Kenneth Thomas, Ed Hance, Cecil Hance, and Delbert Courtney.

Girls' Track

SECOND ROW: Leila Perkins, Gloria Hall, Carolyn Matthews, Mary Hardin, Ann Allsbrooks, and Tometria Hall.

The 1967 girls' track team began the year with an even dozen participants. These twelve girls practiced daily under the supervision of Mrs. Cobb and Coach Don Phillips.

On your mark, get set----GO!!

Baseball

Spring introduced the third athletic event of the year - baseball. These boys were efficiently trained in every skill needed to meet those of their opponents. Kneeling, from left to right: Bobby Stanford, Buddy Brown, David Broaddus, Gene Bacon, and Billy Stanford. Standing: Bobby Riley, Noah Bacon, Ed Hance, Kenneth Thomas, and Harold Seago.

"Sure I've got something to smile about.....
We're ahead!!"

John Whitecotton served as umpire at all the 1967 baseball games.

The Corrigan baseball team had the spirit to play well and the stamina to play hard. By comparison, the school team is small. But the team showed eagerness, worked conscientiously, and gave their every effort to accomplish victory.

Who's ahead, Bobby??

Please throw me a good one!

There was always something to do in Moscow . . .

Those freshman boys will try anything to get attention.

Anyone need a good substitute??

After high school classes were moved to Moscow, students could be seen on the campus throughout the day participating in varied and sometimes unusual activities during their P.E. period.

Who gets to bat first??

Children will be children!

The Moscow campus served as an ideal baseball field.

Just throw that fast ball again- just throw it!!

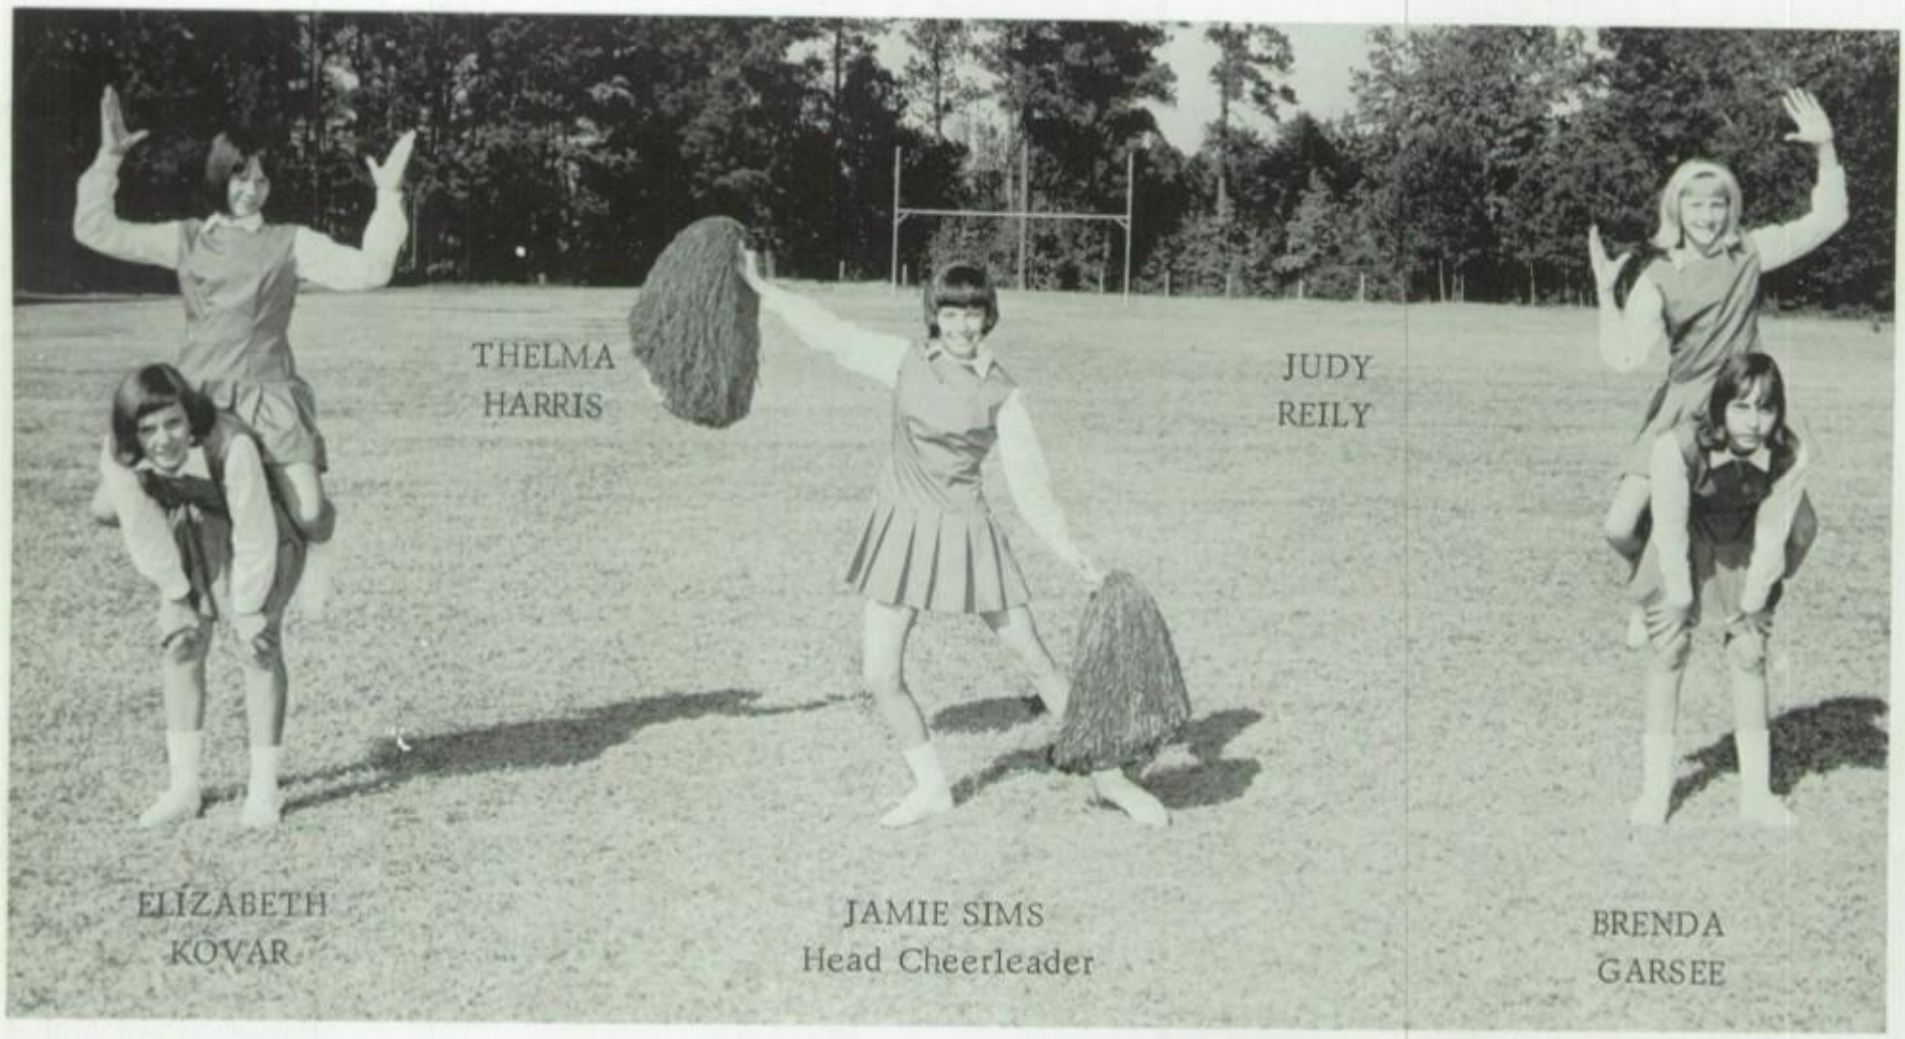
Junior High Cheerleaders



"Two bits, four bits, six bits, a dollar...," is the chant that sent the Bulldogs out fighting. These girls displayed spirit at all the junior high football games.

National Junior Honor Society

Each member of this organization was selected because of his character, scholarship, leadership, and service. The group's successful projects reflected these qualities.

Junior High Sports

These thirteen boys made up the 1967 junior high track team. KNEELING: Ronnie Purvis, Benjamin Freemon, Daryl Baker, Willie Smith, John Burke, John Freemon, and Bennie Byrum. STANDING: Andy Gesford, Jay Standley, Lynn Hubbard, Billy Chandler, William McClendon, and Lon Helton.

Gee, how many more do we have to do, Coach?

John Cobb is up to bat---
Clear the field!

ELEMENTARY

To Mrs. Williams — who devoted forty-three years to the teaching profession — we respectfully dedicate this section of the 1967 Blue Quill.

MRS. ESTHER WILLIAMS

Mrs. Williams, who received her B.S. degree from Stephen F. Austin and her M.Ed. from the University of Houston, retired from the teaching profession after having served the Corrigan School District for nineteen years. She has taught in various other school districts - including those of Livingston and Beaumont - for a total of forty-three years. Because of her many years of service, she was honored with a reception.

The citizens of Corrigan will never forget Mrs. Williams and her dedicated service to the school.

Mrs. Watts presents a gift from the faculty to Mrs. Williams.

Mrs. Williams receives the School Board's gift, a silver tray, from Mr. Dow.

Principal

The most formative years of a child's life are those he spends in elementary school. In this stage of his life, he needs guidance, understanding, and trust.

Mrs. Watts, as principal, has devoted twenty-two years to seeing that each of her students is guided, understood, and trusted to the greatest extent. She has instilled the highest of principles and standards in the minds of her students, thus enabling them to meet the responsibilities which come in later years.

ADVERTISERS

A MESSAGE TO OUR ADVERTISERS

We sincerely appreciate the help of our many advertisers who aided us in the publication of the 1967 Blue Quill. Without your support, our yearbook could not have been a reality.

Since all copy and records were lost in the fire, we also take this opportunity to apologize for any mistakes we might have made in the advertisements. Our complete ad section was reconstructed in three weeks. Thus, for our references we used telephone directories, newspapers, and old yearbooks instead of contacting firms individually.

Again, we wish to express our sincere thanks to you. May you enjoy continued success as businessmen.

To a great friend I always hope to see. I wish you the best of luck in the future. Love Marion

To a great girl from Corrigan I haven't known you very long, but I know you're a real nice and sweet girl, and I hope you stay that way.
Always Pat.

"Chester"
To a real good friend and good looking one. I hope you get all you want in life and worst of all you get.
Love Danny

To a very nice, good looking and sweet girl. I have really enjoyed knowing you. Good luck in the future.
Remember when I wrote it in Cathy's car.
Love always
Wayne

Mary Ann,
To a very sweet and cute girl whom I would some day like to go with. Stay cute and keep your good personality and be very popular in Corrigan.
Always,
Larry

To one of the sweetest, prettiest girls I have ever known. You have a really terrific personality. You are also pretty good at dancing. Have a wonderful summer and make the Cheerleader squad. Don't let it get to your head, stay the same as you are now.
Yours truly,
John (J.R.)

1966-1967 As We Saw It . . .

...The heaters that put out so much effort but never really worked; helping Mrs. Gwen Reily look for papers she was supposed to hand out; slipping on the waxed floors after holidays; trying to "con" Dick into opening the candy room so you won't die of starvation; crossing your legs only to find a knee sticking to the desk by fresh gum; walking down empty halls---you're late for class; the smell of parching peanuts getting burned; cheerleaders' disappointment when the rain at the Chester game turned colorfully wrapped goalposts and pom-poms into a soggy mess; Mr. Sims' lectures on the future; counting a student absent from class because he's getting married that afternoon; hearing Mr. Pate's and Mrs. Jean Reily's students talk about the icicles in their rooms; cracking up because you've heard Mr. Cockrell's jolly laugh; trying to read a book during study hall so you'll have a book report for next period...

...Watching the Senior boys crack those huge rings over the unfortunates' heads; getting to drink cokes in class; accepting defeat after a hard football game; getting drowned by the water fountains when you least expect it; wishing they'd put up stop lights when you find you're having trouble getting down the crowded halls; hearing the trite phrase, "Bought your Blue Quill yet?"; watching a happy girl as she walks down the hall with a newly acquired ring or football jacket; anticipating the arrival of the new principal; saying good-bye to Mr. Sims for the last time...

...Trying to conform to new rules and hoping you'll make a favorable impression on Mr. Hyde; and then feeling empty inside because many of your fondest memories have burned to the ground; feeling lost because you won't get to graduate in the auditorium which has seen so many happy school years end...

...But then---responding with eagerness to the quick resumption of classes; feeling like tearing your hair out because that bell won't stop ringing; watching the "mature" teenagers play on see-saws and monkey bars; hearing that the annual staff is compiling a new Blue Quill; feeling that you have to do a good job at typing---you're on stage; cheating at baseball during study hall---you should be studying; feeling sorry for Mr. Hyde when he has to come to each classroom to make announcements; trying to cram all your books into those little lockers; hoping the bus to Corrigan won't leave until you get on it; watching the faculty ruin Senior ego by beating them at the basketball game; being proud of Dick Skinner when he won the regional bus-driving award; feeling panicky when Mr. Hyde came to the rooms preparing the students for a possible tornado; watching the annual staff float down the hall a few days after the meeting of each deadline; trying to hear the speaker at the Junior-Senior banquet but hearing the band next door instead; getting to wear shorts to school on the day of the swimming party; wishing you were a Senior so you would be exempt from final tests; watching the band members shuffle chairs at the band concert because there's no curtain to hide behind; being proud of the forestry team because they won first place at the state contests; hearing the last lectures of the year from all the teachers; being wished a nice vacation; hearing all the plans for next year and only half listening; giving a final shout of relief---------
